

Dr. Scott Boleman, VP of Operations

Standard Meat Company

Dr. Scott Boleman joined Standard Meat in 2009 in the Quality Assurance Department. Dr. Boleman now serves as the Vice President of Operations and oversees Standard's partnership with Outback Steakhouse and the other Bloomin' Brand concepts. He received his B.S. in Animal Science from the Rosenthal Meat Science and Technology Center at Texas A&M University in 1991, his M.S. in Animal Science specializing in Meat Science in 1993 from Louisiana State University, and his Ph.D. in Animal Science specializing in Meat Science in 1997 from Texas A&M University. Standard Meat has been setting the standard in meat portioning since 1935 – an innovative team of meat processing and packaging experts – your customized protein solutions authority.

Rare Solutions, Well Done

