

Team Tomahawk

John Hefley

General Counsel
Tomahawk Land Resources, LLC

John Hefley is the President of Land/General Counsel at Tomahawk Land Resources, LLC. John is an ardent outdoorsman and enjoys traveling with his wife, Andrea. They live on a small farm in Athens, Texas, where they raise a multitude of animals. They are expecting their first child, Hollis, in June.

Matthew Parker

Land Manager
Tomahawk Land Resources, LLC

Matthew Parker comes from a long line of geologist, landmen, and drillers who made their way across Oklahoma, Arkansas, and east Texas, ultimately settling in the west Texas town of Midland. After graduating from college, he quickly found work as a field landman in courthouses across the Permian Basin.

Matthew is a land manager at Tomahawk Land Resources, LLC where he oversees projects across Texas and New Mexico. He spends his free time with his wife and twelve year old son. They take regular trips to the Texas coast and the mountains of Colorado. Matthew enjoys fishing in all its forms, hiking, skiing, biking, making music, and working in the kitchen.
